

Solidarity with the people of Mahalla - Stop the show trial of Egyptian protestors

Tuesday 19 August 2008, by Collective / Multiple signers (Date first published: 11 August 2008).

A delegation of trade unionists and campaigners handed a petition to the Egyptian embassy in London Thursday 7 August, calling for the release of 49 Egyptian citizens facing trial in the Higher State Security Court on 9 August on charges related to protests in Mahalla on 6 and 7 April this year.

Lindsey German, representing the Stop the War Coalition, Rob Owen from the National Executive of the National Union of Students, Sami Ramadani and Sabah Jawad from Iraqi Democrats against the Occupation presented the petition to the embassy. They were joined by trade unionists, students and representatives of the Haldane Society of Socialist Lawyers.

Mark Serwotka, leader of the civil servants' trade union PCS, journalists' union leader Jeremy Dear and campaigning human rights lawyer Louise Christian are among the signatories to the letter which condemns the Egyptian government for using testimony extracted under torture in the case.

Embassy staff refused to receive the petition, although the 2nd Secretary was apparently present in the building. Instead, Egyptian officials communicated with the delegation via British police officers who came out of the embassy front door to tell protestors to put the petition through the letter box.

Amnesty International has also issued a strong statement condemning the use of emergency courts in this case and calling for an investigation into allegations of torture.

Solidarity with the people of Mahalla

Stop the show trial of Egyptian protestors

We the undersigned express our full solidarity with the 49 Egyptian citizens, whom the Mubarak regime has decided to prosecute in an Emergency High State Security Criminal Court, accused of involvement in the two day uprising in the Nile Delta town of Mahalla in April. On the 6th and 7th April, Mubarak's troops occupied, Ghazl el-Mahalla, the biggest textile mill in the Middle East, home to 27,000 workers, aborting a strike announced by the independent Textile Workers' League in protest at spiralling food prices and to demand a raise in the minimum wage which has remained stagnant since 1984.

The troops used live ammunition, tear gas, water cannons and sticks against the peaceful protestors in the town who took to the streets after the crushing of the strike. At least three were killed, and hundreds were injured and detained. The 49 detainees face a list of trumped up charges, to which some have confessed under torture. They will be tried in an exceptional court, systematically denounced by human rights watchdogs for lacking the international standards for a "safe and just trial." We call on the Egyptian dictatorship to release them immediately.
