

Protect! Resist! Transform!

Coronavirus: solidarity update 27 March

Friday 27 March 2020, by JOHNSON Mark (Date first published: 27 March 2020).

Mark Johnson's selection of news and analysis from around the world

Contents

- Impact on poor and social \(...\)
- How to resist
- In the long term
- Understanding the science
- We're also reading...
- From our archives

Coronavirus/Covid-19: Find all relevant articles on ESSF using the keyword Coronavirus/Covid-19 \(EN\). To display English and French articles, use Coronavirus / Covid-19 \(EN, FR\).

Impact on poor and social movements

Europe

Italy is the European country hardest hit so far. Antonello Zecca, an organizer with the Sinistra Anticapitalista (Anticapitalist Left) provides an overview of the crisis \(22 March\), and David Broder reports on the beginnings of a strike wave demanding closing down of protection not essential for the population, and adequate protection for all those still working (12 March)

From Spain Laia Facet explains how the Socialist Party and Podemos government is handling the crisis.

Britain The government seems to be abandoning its 'mitigation' strategy of letting the old and sick die , but this has cost valuable time and will cause extra deaths, says Phil Hearse. The National Health Service was already weakened by years of austerity and the reduced EU migration following Brexit, explains Siva Anandaciva. The crisis also requires nationalisation of empty houses and a new commitment to state housing.

South Asia

India's Coalition for Environmental Justice is arguing for limited and people-centred public health, rather than the authoritarian and anti-science fumbling of the Hindu fundamentalist government.

Pakistan The Hagoog-E-Khalq movement is calling for a people-centred response.

South East Asia

Philippines: The National Union of Peoples' Lawyers (NUPL) warns that President Duterte is claiming excessive emergency powers.

East Asia

From South Korea, the People's Health Movement explains the success and limits of Covid-19 containment and the challenges for labour and social movements on the peninsula. (19 March)

China Labour Bulletin explains how women in China bear most of the burden of pandemic response, in emergency services and on the home front.

Americas

Brazil's President Bolsonaro is a dangerous liability, warns activists of the PSOL. In the USA, transport workers in Detroit are striking for better protection, writes Jane Slaughter

Middle East & North Africa

In Algeria, the pandemic seems to be blocking the weekly hirak protests for justice and democracy.

How to resist

There are increasing strikes for worker safety and closing down non-essential production. This includes international coordination among call centre workers and at Amazon.

In Canada, Gary Kinsman takes inspiration from the strategy and tactics of AIDS activism.

In the long term

Niel Faulkner (UK) predicts the Tory strategy to use the epidemic to force through unpopular reforms (16 March)

-

Understanding the science

Daniel Tanuro summarises the origin and impact of the pandemic and its implications for social movements.

Dr Jeyakumar Devaraj of the Socialist Party Malaysia explains the difference between the ultraliberal 'mitigation strategy' of letting the old and sick die, as opposed to the costly eradication strategy followed by China, South Korea and some other countries.

We're also reading...

Teivo Teivainen and Pauli Huotari unpick the prejudices and assumptions in 'western' thinking about this global crisis.

Ammar Ali Jan identifies the authoritarian mechanisms that the capitalist elite uses in times of crisis.

From our archives

Its worth re-reading these key articles on the Ebola pandemic